TWO MORE JURORS HAVE BEEN EXCUSED

Reason Is Given For the Court's Action.

ANOTHER DELAY IN THAW TRIAL

After Conference With Counsel on Both Sides, Judge Fitzgerald Excused Two Jurors, Leaving Only Nine Men in the Box.

New York, Feb. 1.—The work of selecting a jury to try Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Architect Stanford White, is nearing completion. Eleven jurors were in the box when court adjourned Wednesday, and the twelfth juror, it is expected, will be chosen early today. Then the real business of the trial will begin.

District Attorney Jerome will personally outline the state's case in his opening address. This it is believed will be a comparatively brief statement setting forth the crime as it is known to have occurred. He will trace the movements of Thaw and his victim on to the fatal end, bring them together in the roof garden of Madison Square, where Thaw shot and killed Stanford White while the latter sat at the table with some friends watching a theatrical performance.

Roger O'Mara, former chief of police of Pittsburg, who has been working for several months gathering evidence in behalf of Thaw, arrived in town Wednesday night. He is said to have obtained information and data valuable to Thaw, but refused to disclose its nature.

"I have come here in answer to a telegram from Mrs. Thaw's counsel," said O'Hara. I have known Harry Thaw for years and we have been friends and I know that he desires that I shall be on hand during his actual trial. I have information and data which are of value to the defense. I can say that, for I have been constantly employed for months in the gathering of evidence and making investigations for my client and his counsel."

The members of Thaw's family who are standing loyally by the side of the accused and Thaw himself, while naturally anxious, have looked forward eagerly for the day to come when the real trial would begin. Now that it is here they have announced that they will attend every session of the court in an endeavor to cheer and encourage the young man who is fighting for his life.

When the seventh day's proceeding opened it was expected that the one juror necessary to complete the trial panel of 12 would be secured before luncheon. A panel of 100 new talesmen appeared Thursday morning, in response to orders issued Wednesday, so there was plenty of material available for the selection of the last juror. The defendant appeared especially confident today and he evidently has steeled himself for the ordeal of the district attorney's arraignment.

The members of the new panel filled many of the seats in the rear of the court room which have been vacant for several days through the strict enforcement of the rule regulating admittance to the court room. Important events were expected to develop, the members of the Thaw family were early in their seats. Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the prisoner, came the daughters, the Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. George L. Canegie, and her son, Edward Thaw. Josiah Thaw and George Carnegie had preceded Mrs. Thaw's party by several minutes. Mrs. Evelyn Thaw and her companion, May McKenzie, are usually among the first persons to reach the court room each day, but they were late Thursday morning. They did not arrive until 10:50 o'clock when there was a cordial exchange of greetings with the other members of the family. The morning session had not opened when the prisoner's wife came.

The delay was due to a conference of all the attorneys with Justice Fitz- [illegible] conference was [illegible] jury toney Jerome announced that counsel for the people and the defense had decided to excuse from further service on the jury Messrs. David S. Walker and Louis Haas. No cause was assigned for their excusing. Mr. Walker is the son of John Brisben Walker and Mr. Haas would be excused had been rife and there was but little surprise in the court room when the decision of the attorneys was announced.

The excuse of the two jurors, making it necessary to fill three places in the trial panel completely upset the theory that the case might progress Thursday fo the opening address of the prosecution.

Oscar A. Pink, a grain salesman, 46 years old, was chosen as a juror in the Thaw case. He is the tenth man now in the box.

Wilbur F. Steele, a manufacturer, 60 years old, wa schosen early Thursday afternoon. He is the eleventh juror now in the box.

A new panel has been ordered in the Thaw case.

Will Visit Paris.

London, Feb. 1.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra are going to spend a week in Paris before the opening of parliament. Their majesties start February 2, returning probably February 9. The king will be the guest of Sir Francis L. Bertie at the British embassy while the queen will stay with the Earl and Countess de Grey, who have a residence in the French capital. There had been no pervious hint of the trip, which is described officially as purely personal and private. It is, however, recalled that the previous visits of King Edward to Paris have been followed by the strengthening of the Anglo French understanding and the general impression is that the interviews which will doubtless occur between the king and President Fallieries, which assist in the extension of the understanding which some believe will ultimately result in an Anglo-French military convention.

Embankment Washed Out.

Natchez, Miss., Feb. 1.—A report reached here Thursday morning that the Texas and Pacific railroad embankment at Bouger, La., on which several levee contractors with large outfits worked last summer and filled has been washed out. The news was not unexpected, as the embankment had just been completed when the high water came down the river. Bouger is down in Concordia Parish, La., and the water is backing up in that parish, and the gauge at this port at 8 o'clock in the morning stood at 45.8 feet.

State Closes Case.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 1.—The state in the Rosa Mangrum murder case closed its evidence in chief on Thursday mornin, with the exception of one witness, who will testify later. The testimony was given by medical experts was purely of a technical nature, going to prove that the prescriptions given Mrs. Mangrum by Dr. Feist were not for venereal diseases. At the conclusion of the state's testimony it is understood the defense will ask for a recess of two or three days in order to prepare depositions.

Lillian Russell Show Attached.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 1.—Because the business manager of Lillian Russell's play, "The Butterfly," at first refused to pay $5 for a carriage ordered in advance of the arrival of the play, proceedings were instituted by the Mitchell Riley livery stable and the property of the play was attached. During the early part of the performance a bailiff stationed himself outside the office of the opera house. The money was finally paid. The carriage went to the wrong depot at orders, and hence the kick on payment.

Steamer Fire Grows More Serious.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—Reports from Newport News to which point the British steamer Inkula, bound for Galveston to Liverpool, with a cargo of cotton and corn, was towed after putting back here last week with a fire in her cargo, are to the effect that the fire in the Inkula hold No. 1 has grown more serious and the prospects are that the hold will have to

YOUNG WIFE KILLED BY ANGRY HUSBAND

After Murdering Wife Man Then Shoots Infant.

WIFE SHOT WITH BABY IN ARMS

Lillies Then Fired Charge Into Baby as It Lay by its Dead Mother—The Tragedy Occurred on the Porch of the Lillies' Home.

Waycross, Ga., Feb. 1.—The most horrible crime this section has ever had to record was the killing of Mrs. Lillies and the probably fatal shooting of the 4-months-old child by her husband, H. E. Lillies. The shooting occurred just after dark, at the Lilles place on Eaton street, in the center of the residence section of the city.

There was no eye-witness to the killing, but the evidence before the coroner's jury is to the effect that Lilles placed a double-barreled shotgun to the left side of his wife's face and pulled the trigger. Mrs. Lilles had her babe in her arms at the time, and as she fell, the babe was dropped. The second barrel of the gun Lilles fired into the babe as it lay on the floor tearing itsleft arm off.

Lilles, according to the evidence of another family, who occupies part of the house in which he resides, has often beaten his wife during the past few weeks, and more than once has threatened to kill her and the babe.

Lilles came home drunk and locked his wife up in a room, telling her that neither she or the babe would leave the house alive. Shortly after he went to sleep, when Mrs. Lilles escaped with her baby, going to the home of her uncle, Henry Arrington, on Jane street. She told him her husband had threatened to kill her, but later in the day Mr. Arrington thought he had settled that trouble by Mr. Lilles promising to agree to allow his wife to go to her former home, near the town of Moultrie.

Later Mrs. Lilles walked with her husband up town. He stopped in a restaurant and secured his shotgun and the two returned home together. It was immediately after they entered the front porch of their home that the shooting occurred.

Mrs. Lilles was lying on the porch with the side of her head blown away, and the baby was on the floor near by with its arm shot off. The powder had blackened the wound, and her hat was set on fire. The second shot went through the baby's arm and then through the floor. Lilles was standing near the head of his wife's body when arrested, and did not seem to be very much worried over the matter. He said that he dropped his gun and that the shooting was an accident. He was not drunk when arrested, but seemed to be recovering from his drunk of the morning. The coroner's jury is in session, but up to a late hour no verdict had been returned.

Mrs. Lilles was a daughter of a Mr. Johnson, who resides near Moultrie, and was a granddaughter of Mr. Tom Redding, a prominent man of that section. She was a young woman, almost a girl, and neighbors say has been a good wife. It is stated that Lilles has been a habitual drinker of "juice," a substitute for whisky, which is sold here, and was drunk on that concoction.

Southern Hits Alabama Iron.

Birmingham, Ala., Fsb. 1.—The Southern railway has announced that the freight rates on iron out of the city of Birmingham would not be increased 25 cents per ton on Feb. 1. The advance was recently ordered by the Southern iron committee. It is stated that the increase will go into effect March 3. It is estimated that there are at least 100,000 tons of iron in the various yards of Birmingham awaiting shipment, and the delay will allow the iron men to clear up the yards at the old rate.

Ambassador Creel Visits Root.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Senor Enrique Creel, the new Mexican ambassador, has paid a formal visit to Secretary Root.

RACE RIOT IN PITTSBURG.

Murder Was Prevented But Several Negroes Were Injured.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—C. A. Jackson, a negro, bleeding from a great many wounds on the head, is locked up in the central police station following an exciting and almost successful attempt to lynch him by a crowd of several hundred pesons in Fifth avenue, in front of the business district.

A newsboy asked the negro to buy a paper. Jackson shoved him roughly into the street. The boy threw a stone and struck Jackson on the head. The negro jumped to the street and began choking the boy. The street was thronged with men, the incident occurring about 7 o'clock, and in a moment several men caught the negro and began beating him.

Stones and closed fists were the chief weapons used upon Jackson.

Backed up against a building, Jackson, trembling with fear, shielded himself with his arms, while the crowd beat him and tore his clothes. About this time several other negroes took part in the affair, and endeavored to protect Jackson.

Immediately there were cries of "Lynch them!" and "Kill the niggers!" The mob then turned its attention to Jackson's negro protectors, and soon there were several rough and tumble battles along Fifth avenue.

The mob crying all the while "Kill all the negroes," caught several other negroes and proceeded to bump their heads up against the stone buildings.

Jackson, bleeding and his clothes almost torn off, was temporarily forgotten and he ran down Fifth avenue but was followed by several persons. He was rescued by the police after much difficulty, and locked up.

May Construct New Line.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 1.—A meeting of the directors of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railway has been announced for next Monday at the general offices of the road. The purpose of the meeting has not been made public, and officials could not be induced to discuss the plans. On account of a failure to get a meeting some time ago it was believed that nothing would take place regarding the actual transfer of the road to the Seaboard until the annual meeting in March. The meeting for Monday is an important one. The question of the construction of a new line to Atlanta is likely to become the foremost one. Plans for taking over the road and making it a part of the Seaboard and making the required changes as to offices and divisions are also to be discussed.

Exports of Manufacturers.

Washington, Feb. 1.—According to a statement issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commece and labor the exports of manufactures from the United States in the year just ended aggregated $718,000,000, and formed 41 per cent of the tofal exports. The exports to Europe aggregated in value $318,563,047, North America $182,121,776, Asia $78,530,251, South America $64,328,900, Oceanica $29,711,707 and Africa $12,827,488.

Interest in Murder Trial.

Riverdale, N. H., Feb. 1.—Interest in the trial of Dr. James W. Simpson, accused of murdering his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, is at a high pitch because of the fact that the wife and mother-in-law of the accused man were expected to take the stand and tell their story of the tragedy. Dr. Simpson's only relative to come to him in his time of need has been his sister, Mrs. Bowman, of Virginia. She has been at his side constantly while the trial has been in progress.

Total Expenditure for Education.

New York, Feb. 1.—"It is estimated that the total expenditure for all forms of education in this country, public and private, in the year 1905, reached the sum of $375,996,473. This amount includes 16 per cent of all expenditures for governmental purposes in this country, national, state and local. The statement was made by Elmore R. Brown, commissioner of education, in an address at Cooper Union.

GOVERNMENT MAY DIG PANAMA CANAL

Administration May Not Let Work by Contract.

All Bids to Do Work by Contract May Be Rejected and the Task Be Put In the Hands of Engineer Stevens.

Washington, Feb. 1.—It is still possible that the administration may determine to dig the Panama canal, placing the work in the hands of Chief Engineer Stevens instead of having it done under contract. The final decision will rest with the president and the secretary of war, and will depend on their opinion as to whether the administration is justified in accepting the bid to do it by contract.

It was pointed out on high authority that the government has not promised to accept the bids of W. J. Oliver, who has been given an opportunity to associate himself with two other contractors to do the work at his bid of 6⅝ per cent. The president and Secretary Taft feel that the question of cost is not the one thing alone to be considered, and that they would be justified in declining to enter into a contract to dig the canal if they felt that the government interests would be best subserved by not doing so.

"Reports in the papers seem to indicate a belief that the canal contract has been conditionally awarded to Mr. Oliver. This is not so. No decision has been made even that the contract will be awarded to any of the bidders. Mr. Oliver's bid was so hopelessly defective that it could not be even considered, and time was given him to complete it in a shape that will enable it to receive consideration. If it is put into shape it will be considered, together with the bid already made by the Gillespie-McArthur combination, which may itself be altered, and then which ever bid, after the most careful examination, seems most advantageous may be taken, or both bids rejected and the canal be constructed under the direct supervision of the government. In such case, the government would, wherever it chose, use contractors simply as agents. The real object in contracting the work, and the prime consideration will be the ability and fitness shown in a variety of directions by the men making the bid. The president and the commission would not even consider a bid of merely one or two men. The work is alerady going well. Over half a million cubic yards were taken out of the Culebra cut in January, and the amount being taken out is steadily increasing.

Purchase Coal Lands.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 1.—The Southern Timber Land and Mineral company of Nashville, which is headed by ex-Governor McMillan, of Tennessee, has purchased from the Continental Realty company, of Winchester, Ky., 52,000 acres of coal and timber lands in Breathitt, Knott and Perry counties, Kentucky, at a cost of one million dollars. DR. D'PASS' DEATH.

A Few Particulars Which Will Prove of Interest to Sun Readers.

Concerning the particulars of the sad and sudden death of Dr. James P. DePass, which occurred at Miami during Wednesday night, The Sun prints the following, taken from the Miami informant of The Metropolis:

"Dr. DePass went to Miami Tuesday intending to go to Key West yesterday to join his wife, who has been visiting one of their children there for the past two months or more. Tuesday night he dined, according to our Miami dispatch, with Dr. Jackson and family, and afterward walked down the street. About 8:30 o'clock he went into the P. & O. office under the veranda of Halcyon Hall, to see about his ticket to Key West. While waiting to be served he seated himself and lighted a cigar. He had smoked but a few seconds when his hands were seen to fall to his side and head lurch forward.

"Dr. Jackson was immediately summoned, and responded at once, and recognizing the sufferer as Dr. DePass and but a short time before, his guest, had him removed to his residence across the street. There restoratives were applied, but with only partial success, the patient at times in a semiconscious condition, complaining about great pain, pleading to be relieved and asking where were his legs.

"Deceased was a resident of Williston, and was assigned by the last Methodist conference as agent to solicit funds for the purpose of establishing a Methodist Orphans' Home. He had met with great success, and intended to return here from Key West and spend some time in working for the home. Previous to being assigned this work, Dr. DePass preached two years at Arcadia. He was known as a preacher of marked ability and a scholar, being at different times editor of The Florida Christian Advocate, agricultural editor of The Florida Times-Union, and director of the experimental laboratory connected with the State College at Lake City. He was about 70 years of age."

The funeral of Dr. DePass will be held at Wacahoota church at 10 o'clock this morning, Rev. T. J. Nixon of the First Methodist Church, this city, officiating. Friends of the family are invited.

A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

Dr. and Mrs. Farr entertained a number of friends at progressive whist Thursday evening at their home on East Liberty street, complimentary to Miss Mayer of Watertown, N. Y., who has been the recipient of many compliments since her visit here.

There were eight tables, and those participating demonstrated the fact that they were well versed in the game.

The first lady's prize, a handsome silver paper cutter, was won by Mrs. Cadawalder, who in turn presented it to Miss Mayer. The second prize was a picture, which was awarded to Miss Jessie Bodiford for efficiency. The gentleman's prize, a silver-handle hat brush, fell to the lot of Dr. DeVere B. Morris. There were also two consolation prizes. The lady's consolation was a mop, won by Miss Price, and the gentleman's "booby" was a set of wooden alphabet blocks.

Delicious refreshments, which were odd in their nature, were served, consisting of George and Martha Washington images, frozen in white and pink, the former images being distributed to the ladies, the latter to the gentlemen.

MOB DESTROYED ALL EVIDENCE.

Lynching Prevents Prosecution of Three Negoes for Murder.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 1.—The case against Della Dillingham, Henry Gillespie and George Irvine, the first named a woman, charged with the murder of the Lyerly family at Babe junction, last July, was called Wednesday in Ledell superior court, at Statesville. The state found itself at a standstill before the trial had more than started.

When the mob of whites lynched the other three negroes implicated in this crime at Salisbury last summer all the evidence in the case for the prosecution perished. There waws no evidence against the survivors of the mob's vengeance, other than that the Dillingham woman was the wife of one of the mob victims, and Gillespie the brother of another.

The judge ordered the witnesses discharged and ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

GREAT CROWDS ATTENDED MEETING

Friday Night Was the Banner Night For Culpepper Revival.

54 ACCESSIONS TO CHURCH

The Sermon by Elder Culpepper Was a Stirring One, and Many Felt Its Influences—Read Episcopalian Authorities on Dancing.

The interest in the Culpepper meetings still increases. There were fine congregations at both the day services. At the afternoon services there were quite a number of young people united with the church.

At the evening service the Tabernacle was filled to overflowing—scarcely a vacant seat in the vast auditorium fully half an hour before time for services to begin.

After song service, the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. S. E. Rogers. Rev. J. B. Culpepper then read from Episcopal authority with regard to dancing and card-playing, showing conclusively that this church stood squarely and uncompromisingly against these forms of social amusement—so-called.

The subject of the sermon was "Repentance," which he defined not as feeling as more than a promise. It was a letting go of the wrong and a taking hold of the good. It was a getting off of the wrong train and a getting on the right one. The sermon was both a powerful and a touching one—an earnest, eloquent plea for pure and righteous living.

At the conclusion more than three hundred came forward and asked to be prayed for.

There were 54 accessions to the various churches. It was the greatest meeting of the series.

There will be none but the night services today, as it will be a busy day, and the preachers will want to rest, since they have been engaged every day for two or three services since they have been here. The service tonight at 7:30 and the Sunday services will be held at the Tabernacle, so that all may be accommodated with seats.

A BOLD PROJECT.

The Scheme by Which Malet Nearly Captured Paris in 1812.

A bold scheme was that engineered by Malet, a Frenchman. Malet had been a republican general, was ruined by the rise of Napoleon, betook himself to plotting, was arrested and finally put in a madhouse. During the emperor's absence in Russia in 1812 Malet escaped one night from his prison, obtained a general's uniform and with an accomplice dressed as an aid-de-camp made his way to the prison of La Force, where the unsuspecting governor released on his command two other ex-republicans, Generals Laborie and Guidal, prisoners on a like charge to his own. Together they proceeded to a neighboring barracks, announced to the commandant that Napoleon was dead and that they were acting by the decree of the senate, ordered the troops to be paraded and dispatched bodies of men upon various duties. Some arrested Savary, the minister of police; others the police prefect. Another battalion seized the Hotel de Ville. Everybody obeyed Malet implicitly, even the prefect of the Seine, and he would undoubtedly have gained possession of Paris had he not been recognized by Laborde, chief of the military police, as an escaped prisoner. He was arrested after a scuffle, the plot was unraveled, and in due course Malet, with twenty-three of his abettors, was shot.

ADVERTISING AN ART.

But It Should Be Made an Art That Calls Beauty to Its Service.

Advertising has indeed become an art. It remains for it to become, if not a fine art, at least an art that calls beauty to its service. When it does, much of the energy that is now misdirected, much of the money that is now prodigally wasted in destroying the world's beauty, will be saved.

The right procedure is indicated by the most conspicuous medium for public advertising. The press, in its daily, weekly or monthly forms, offers altogether the best means for calling public attention to all sorts of things. The best of public journals—those which are recognized as the most desirable mediums for advertising and which consequently obtain the highest prices for their services—make it a rule to classify and restrict in a judicious manner the advertisements that they print. They confine them to certain parts of the publication, they restrict their display to certain decorous styles of type, recognizing that to admit a helter skelter distribution through all columns or to display them in incoherent fashion according to the whims of the advertisers would largely destroy the very objects held in view. The readers of these journals would resent the intrusion of advertising matter into the space set apart for news, editorials, etc., and the influence that gives the advertising its value would decline.

In the same way the forms of advertising that now give exceeding offense to the community ought to be restricted and kept within proper limits. If this were effected the practice would change from the public nuisance that it now is to a function that, in a considerable degree, might couple genuine service to the public with a presentation of its material in an interesting and even esthetically attractive fashion.—Sylvester Baxter in Century.

WEARING A WIG.

An eminent American who while in Paris consulted a famous physician of that city to ascertain if there was any remedy for baldness was told by the doctor that the best thing to do was to wear a toupee or wig. The American said that he always regarded the wearing of a wig as an evidence of a man's vanity, but he was quite surprised when the French physician replied: "You are quite mistaken. The wearing of a wig is regarded by those who have carefully studied the subject of health as a beneficent safeguard. A man who from any cause has lost a good part of his hair usually loses it some time after middle life, when his vitality begins to ebb. You must bear in mind that the scalp is filled with myriads of blood vessels, and when it is exposed without the covering that nature intended to give it a man is apt to suffer from sudden and acute attacks of cold, catarrh and influenza. I have often prescribed the wearing of a toupee or wig to a patient who has come to me complaining of his susceptibility to colds, and in nine cases out of ten after the wig has been worn the susceptibility has ceased at once. Many cases of deafness I have traced to colds constantly recurring in those who have lost their hair and who have provided no substitute for nature's covering. Some cases of chronic sore throat are traceable to the same cause. In some instances patients suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs in the early stages have found decided protection from colds by wearing a wig. Those who need to wear a wig and will not do so must be regarded as victims of vanity rather than those who, accepting the inevitable, make the best of their misfortune, for I regard baldness as nothing less than a misfortune to any man or woman."—Leslie's Weekly.

Young Foley looked so downcast that the market man asked why he carried such a long face.

"Fired," returned Foley concisely.

"Fired?" repeated the market man. "Give you any reason for doing it?"

"Yep," Foley said, with the air of a martyr. "The boss said he was losing money on the things I was making."

"Is that so? What were you making?"

"Mistakes."

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least, not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

MOTHER SAVES NEGRO'S LIFE.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 1.—Shortly after dark Wednesday night, Bambo Grice, a negro about 20 years of age, attempted to outrage the 10-year old daughter of C. M. King, at the corner of Hayne and Strong streets, and but for the screams of the older sister of the child, he would have succeeded.

The father, hearing the screams of the child, ran from his home into the yard, and when told of what was transpiring in a small house on the premises, hastened there and caught the negro in his attempt. A fierce fight ensued, in which the negro seemed to be getting the best of the encounter until struck a heavy blow. Mrs. King ran out, and but for her persuasion the negro would have been killed, as the father had secured a hatchet and was endeavoring to strike the black. She finally persuaded him to guard the black until she could call the police to the telephone, and when they arrived they took the nego into custody.

DROPPED DEAD WHILE TALKING

Major Julian Mitchell Suddenly Expires at Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 1.—While delivering an address before the City Federation of Women's Clubs, in the St. John hotel, Major Julian Mitchell the chairman of the school board and probably leading criminal lawyer of the Charleston bar, dropped dead from a stroke of apoplexy. Major Mitchell had just read a chapter from a book on Charleston and was begining his discourse when he fell to the platform causing great consternation in the large audience of ladies present.

Major Mitchell was in his seventy-second year, and was supposed to be in good health. During the war between the states he served the confederacy on the staff of General R. S. Ripley. He was secretary of the legation at St. Petersburg under Hon. Samuel B. Pickens. He was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1895, and had for many years been prominent in legal and educational work.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

"I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed, and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alone; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one-dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Uncapher of Grovertown, Stark Co., Ind. This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lungs, is guaranteed at all druggists'. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "risings" or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Atlanta Firm Seeks Arrest.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 1.—J. D. Compton was refused release on a charge of obtaining money from the Miller Union Stock Yards of Atlanta, under false pretenses. He at once made bond for appeal to the supreme court, and was released. An Atlanta detective was here for the accused but will have to go back without him. According to the evidence, Compton gave a check for $3,600 signed by J. W. Chastain, of this city. He does not deny signing the check, but alleges that he had authority to do so. This was denied by Chastain, and on this the accused was held. The governor had already issued a requisition for the return of the prisoner. The appeal bond was $1,000.

Valuable Pebbles.

Between the northern point of Long Island and Watch Hill lies a row of little islands, two of which, Plum island and Goose island, possess a peculiar form of mineral wealth. It consists in heaps of richly colored quartz pebbles, showing red, yellow, purple and other hues, which are locally called agates. They are used in making stained glass windows, and there is a sufficient demand for them in New York to keep the owners of one or two sloops employed in gathering them from the beaches, where the waves continually roll and polish them, bringing out the beauty of their colors.

El Dorado.

The modern meaning of El Dorado may be traced as follows: One of Pizarro's men said that he had discovered a land of boundless wealth between the Orinoco and the Amazon. This country was named El Dorado, and many adventurers, among them Sir Walter Raleigh, endeavored to find it; hence the name has come to mean a golden country of the mind, a fabulous land of fabulous wealth, much as Cockaigne, a fancied land of luxury and idleness.—New York American.

Happiness and Hunger.

GAINESVILLE, FLA.

At least one Floridian, Chas. L. Anderson, has enjoyed the distinction of being examined as to his competency as a juror to sit on the case of Harry Thaw, the New York murderer; but after Mr. Anderson had been closely questioned as to his scruples against the infliction of death and he said he had none, and after it was learned that he was a citizen of Florida, by mutual consent of counsel he was excused. One Southern man, a Louisianian, will be on the jury if he is not relieved before the panel is completed.

The good people of the town of Pittsburg, Pa., one of the Republican strongholds of the Union, attempted to lynch a negro because he shoved an over-enthusiastic newsboy who probably become insolent when the negro refused to buy a paper, off the curbing. That was in the hot-bed of the North; but if the South attempts to defend the purity and virtue of her women against the black man by dealing justice to offenders at their own hands, there comes a big howl from some of the Northern press—and Pittsburg papers have been especially active.

It is hoped that the Brownsville affair, which has become famous through the publicity given it, will soon be at an end, and that the American people will have something else to interest them than the question of whether the President reserves the authority to discharge soldiers of either race from the army who are guilty of disorderly enduct and rioting. It makes no difference what the opinion or decision of the coming conference may be, President Roosevelt in his action will have the approval of the masses—not on the line of race prejudice, but on general principles.

As a result of drinking a substitute for whiskey, it is claimed, H. Liles, a barber of Waycross, Ga., became insane, killing his young wife and seriously wounding the four-months-old baby in her arms. Liles secured a shotgun, and as he approached his wife at their home raised the gun, and at close range shot her in the face. The infant fell to the floor, when the gun was turned upon it, the charge almost tearning off one of its arms. This would afford an excellent opportunity for the authorities to investigate the substitutes sold for whiskey, and in which murder and crime lurk.

There is a law of the American desert, unwritten in some of the States but actually on the statute books of one or two of them, that a man shall have the right to demand water for himself and beast, and even employ force in backing the demand. William and Lyon Desplain, mining prospectors, became lost in the Colorado desert a few days ago and wandered around aimlessly. Their water supply gave out and they suffered terribly from thirst. Finally they came upon the hut of a man named Jones, who owned the only well within thirty miles. They asked permission to slake their thirst and fill their canteens. This Jones denied. The brothers then proceeded to the well for the purpose of filling their canteens anyhow, when Jones opened fire on them. One of the Desplains was slightly wounded, but the other shot Jones dead. The coroner said the Desplains were justified in taking water and in shooting.—Savannah News.

WHAT WE ARE OR ARE NOT.

The longer we live, the more we learn, and the more we learn, the less we think we know. Such is the inconsistency of man's ideas. The less one knows the greater his opinion of his abilities and wisdom. In the morning of life a conceited man prides himself on his greatness, and wonders to what grand channel he will confine his talents. He looks upon his school district as the world at large, and himself as the great genius in whose keeping the world's nature rests. He imagines that when he speaks nations tremble, mountains totter and the sea becomes silent.

He imagines that a gaping and wondering populace are gazing on him with open-mouthed wonder and ironclad astonishment, and that he holds the world in the hollow of his hand with a grasp that is perpetual.

But as days and months and years pass in rapid succession, the young man finds out that he is possibly mistaken, and if he would wander away and get lost some one or more of all the people on the earth would not miss him. By and by he begins to realize that he is only one of the many millions of people, and instead of standing forth as the center of attraction, he only fills a small niche of some obscure corner, and really attracts but little attention. The ignorant man who realizes his ignorance and who does not seek to pass himself off for more than he is worth, is pardonable, but the self-conceited man who tries to pass himself off at a premium, is to be pitied. The best way is to hold one's self-esteem down and not rate himself too high. The man who climbs the highest has the farthest to fall.

It is more pleasant to be invited to take a higher seat than to be deprived of it. It is more pleasant to be king of a cottage than the servant of a palace. It is better to be a good five-cent piece than a bogus quarter; in other words, it is better to hold ourselves at what we are honestly worth. The world is full of people who never learn anything because they think they know enough to begin with. Thousands are teaching when they ought to be taught; thousands believe themselves wise when their ignorance is lamentable; thousands believe themselves clothed in gold when they are only thinly plated and the copper shows through in many places. The wisest are comparatively ignorant and thousands of men who have grand ideas of their own abilities will some day wake up to the realization that they have been laboring under a large sized delusion. Many a young man's life is gilded by bright dreams that come in the early stage of the game, but later on he finds that these dreams are only empty.

John Sharp Williams and Senator Daniel were discussing the fortifications bill and the former declared that there should be heavy fortifications along the Virginia capes, otherwise an invading fleet might get up to Washington. "Perhaps you are right," said the old Confederate, "but I was trying to get into Washington from 1861 to 1865, and never succeeded until 1884." It was in the latter year that Mr. Daniel was elected Congressman.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

George Ochs, publisher of The Philadelphia Public Ledger, who was married Wednesday night to Miss Bertie M. Gans, was a former citizen of Chattanooga, and twice mayor of that city. As a token of the high esteem in which he is held by his Southern associates, the past city officials and city councils presented him with a magnificent loving cup, and the employes of The Chattanooga Times and The Tradesman, as a token of their regard, sent a bronze mirror.

ALL-ROUND WELFARE NEEDED.

If the return of population to rural life or the retention of those already there is not facilitated by efforts which the United States department of agriculture is making, it will not be the fault of federal forethought, says The Wall Street Journal.

One of the commonest objections to living in the country, and one which has often led families to seek the supposedly greater comforts of city life, is the lack of domestic arrangements which make homes comfortable and healthy in all kinds of weather. To overcome this objection the department has made a special report relating to modern conveniences in the farm home. This includes such subjects as, "water supply and sewage disposal, the arrangement of the plumbing of the various kitchen and bath fixtures, suggestions for the installation of the heating apparatus of the house, the character and cost of improvements with plans of typical houses and grounds and of water and sewage systems."

But it is not so much the material as the social and mental poverty of rural life that militates against its upbuilding. Let us hope that the telephone, the trolley and the betterment of highways may all help to furnish the all-round rural welfare which is so desirable. But there must be added the best kind of religious leadership and ministration which those responsible for this branch of rural interests can possibly provide.

The religious activities of the country are relatively of much greater importance than those of the city in the social and moral life of farming communities. Their greatest need is spiritual rather than material, and no advance in the former is going to supply the deeper needs of the latter in building up character and enabling them to live happy and prosperous lives.

UNPROFITABLE FEEDING

Intelligent stock raisers know that a certain amount of feed is necessary to keep an animal alive. They might feed that amount as long as it lives, and it would never gain a pound.

There is no profit in that kind of feeding. The kind that pays is the kind that builds flesh rapidly. If it takes twenty pounds of food each day to keep a sheep alive, twenty-five pounds a day will make it gain flesh. It's the extra five that brings the profit. The first five pounds amounts to nothing, nor does the second or third or fourth five pounds.

It's the same way with advertising. You have to do a certain amount to overcome the resistance of the public.

You have to do a certain amount of advertising to make them wake up to the fact that you are in business at all. You have to pay a certain amount to keep your advertising alive. What you pay above that amount brings profit.

Some advertisers fail because they do not use enough space. They use barely enough or sometimes not quite enough to make the advertising self sustaining. A little bit more would make it profitable. It is better to advertise a little too much than not quite enough.—Charles Austin Bates.

THE DUTY OF HAPPINESS.

Keep Your Face to the Sunlight and Smile Through Your Tears.

I know an old man who has had a great deal of trouble and many losses and misfortunes, but he started out in life with a firm determination to extract just as much real enjoyment from it as he went along as possible—not in dissipation, but in wholesome recreation and fun. He has always tried to see the humorous side of things, the bright side and the duty of happiness.

The result is that, although this man has had more than his share of sorrow in his career, he has developed the inestimable faculty of making the best of every situation and of always facing the sun and turning his back to the shadows. This life habit of cheerfulness and optimism has brought out a sweetness of character and a poise and serenity of mind which are the envy of all who know him. Although he has lost his property and the most of his family and relatives, yet he radiates sunshine and helpfulness wherever he goes.

A man who can laugh outside when he is crying inside, who can smile when he feels badly, has a great accomplishment. We all love the one who believes the sun shines when he cannot see it.

A potted rose in a window will turn its face away from the darkness toward the light. Turn it as often as you will, it always turns away from the darkness and lifts its face upward toward the sun.

So we instinctively shrink from cold, melancholy, inky natures and turn our faces toward the bright, the cheerful and the sunshiny. There is more virtue in one sunbeam than in a whole atmosphere of cloud and gloom.

Your ability to carry your own sunshine with you, your own lubricant, your own light, so that, no matter how heavy the load or dark the way, you will be equal to the emergency, will measure your ability to continue and to achieve.—Success.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

One who loves the truth and you and will tell the truth in spite of you.

The triple alliance of the three great powers—love, sympathy and help.

One who multiplies joys, divides griefs and whose honesty is inviolable.

One who combines for you alike the pleasures and benefits of society and solitude.

A bank of credit on which we can draw supplies of confidence, counsel, sympathy, help and love.

One who considers my need before my deservings.—London Tit-Bits' Prize Competition.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." J. W. McCollum & Co.

How Clark Received the Gift.

Broken by ill health and bowed down by disappointment, Clark retired to private life in bitterness of soul and passed his remaining twenty-three years of querulous existence in obscurity and poverty. Friends called attention to Clark's sad condition a few years before he died, and the legislature of Virginia grandiloquently acknowledged his great services and sent him a jeweled sword. The old hero's answer was unheard. "When Virginia gave me [illegible] sword I gave her one," he explained to the messenger. "She now sends me this toy. I want bread." And he thrust the blade of the costly gift into the ground and broke it at the hilt. —Lyman Tew Sprague, in "George Roberts Clark and His Conquest of the Middle West," in Outing Magazine.
